Our 4 years at P. C.

... presented by the Pac Sac

Annual Publication of Presbyterian College, Clinton, South Carolina

Ed Somerville, Editor

Ed Verdery, Business Manager

of Nineteen Forty Nine

To

Lonnie Sexton McMillian

Filling the bill as both coach and classroom instructor, “Coach Mac”, as he is affectionately addressed by everyone, has come to represent an embodiment of that intangible “something” called “P C Spirit”. To one who justly deserves this recognition and to one who has always sought to implant in all the young people with whom he has been associated those ideals of fair play and good sportsmanship that are prerequisites for living in our present-day civilization, this edition of the PAC SAC is dedicated.

Alma Mater

Mid Piedmont hills of old S. C.

There stands a college called P. C.

She's dear to me, this old P. C.

Where every day is happy.

P. C., P. C., how dear thou art to me.

P. C., P. C., we'll e'er be true to thee.

P. C., P. C., we'll ever sing thy praise.

We'll sing thy praise

Through all our days

All hail to thee.

Our President

Dr. Brown is a constant source of spiritual and intellectual enlightenment to all those who seek his counsel. His contribution to P. C. does not end here, for he has been one of those who is seeking always to bolster our immortal P. C. Spirit.

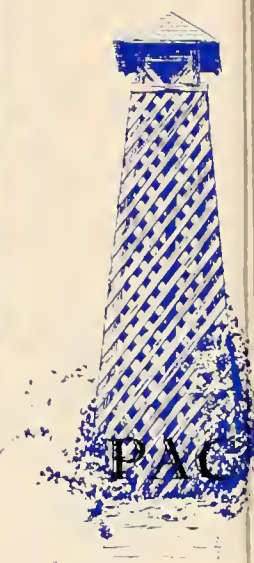

"If in the melancholy shades below
The flames of friends and lovers cease to glow,
Yet mine shall sacred last; mine undecay'd
Burn on through life, and animate my shade."

(2) OFF WE GO!

(3) INTERMISSION

WHEN PC

(4) "DANCE SOME MORE!"

Presbyterian, like almost every other college in the nation, has its dance week-ends. But PC men like to think that the dances here are different somehow from everywhere else.

It's not the size of the affair, nor the traditions that surround it. It is something else; it is the spirit of the thing. For when PC dances, it does so like it does everything else—the student body gives it everything it has. And for those few hours on Friday and Saturday nights, it's a big reunion—although they see each other every day—for everyone there.

Naturally, therefore, when someone invites a girl down for a hop, it's always someone special with whom he wants to share this.

For our Typical Dance Week-end we've chosen Ben Ivey and his "steady date", Kent Wysor, to set the pattern and show just what all the rest do at Presbyterian for two days of "stompin'."

It starts off easily enough. Friday night you simply pick up your date at the house where she's staying, ride out to the armory, hand your tickets to the always smiling Pan-Hel man at the door, and (2), go inside and start dancing.

At intermission (3), you have any number of places to go. There's Roddy's, the frat rooms, and, of course, you can always go to Roddy's. Any number of places.

When you get back, you can dance some more (4), or, when the orchestra plays a novelty tune, you can stand up front and just listen. Or (5), you can watch the crowd. That's always good for a laugh.

(10) DANCING

DANCES

When the final gong has sounded, and everyone is leaving (6), you head for the fraternity rooms for more dancing, or perhaps to some cafe for a frat breakfast. Or you can just ride.

Saturday afternoon's always good for a movie (7).

Saturday night is formal, so when you pick up your date (8), you're all decked out. From the time you arrive at the brawl, until the end, it's dancing (9), dancing (10), and more dancing (11)—although not always with the same partner—right up to the last dreamy goodnight number.

But you still don't want to go home, so it's up to the fraternity suite (12), where you can dance some more, cut up with the rest of the crowd, or (13) just sit quietly together and listen to the music.

Time brings an end to all things, however, and it's all over now but the shouting, the goodnight kiss, naturally.

They don't come very often, these week-end hops, but one thing sure—a fellow doesn't forget the things he's done, the fun he's had. He doesn't forget so quickly.

Speaking of Military . . .

MILITARY

The Reserve Officers Training Corps was established at Presbyterian College in the spring of 1919 and is one of the most important phases of student life on the campus. It is now one of the most efficient units in the South and is under the leadership of Lieutenant Colonel Fraser and Captains Moore and Baker.

The members of the battalion wear the blue star which signifies an excellent rating on spring Federal inspections, and with its continued efficiency there is every indication that it will maintain this high standard.

At the ROTC summer camp last year fourteen Presbyterian college students were rated as experts with either the .30 calibre rifle or the carbine. PC ranked third in the total of individual scores of the students representing twenty colleges and universities.

RIFLE TEAM

Under the competent direction of Master Sergeant Plaxico the Rifle Team has continued its winning ways, having won thirty-five matches while losing ten in the mail order department. The sharpshooters have participated in only two shoulder to shoulder matches, both of which went to them by comfortable margins.

With the State meet on hand in the near future the team has a good chance of repeating as State champions.

We, the PAC SAC Staff, extend to each of you our appreciation for all that you have done in helping us go to press. Without your complete cooperation our book would never have come out, and it is our hope that the finished article will be a joy to you in the years to come.

In this edition of the PAC SAC we are bringing you a composite picture of life as it is really lived at P. C. Although some phases have necessarily been omitted, we believe that those included will be sufficient to leave a clear impression of our campus life.

To all those who have aided us in any way and particularly to Jean Layton we wish to express our deepest gratitude, for it is you who have really made this year's PAC SAC possible.

The Blue Stocking, the student newspaper, is rated "All-American" by the Associated Collegiate Press. In gaining this rating, the highest given by the association, it marked the fifth time that it has received the honor.

It has been rated as one of the oldest college newspapers in the United States, and in the past, in 1942, it was one of the seven best in the country, regardless of size.

The paper was reorganized in 1946 after four years of silence during the war years. Since that time it has presented the news of the college in a light, informative manner, conforming to the best rules of college journalism.

Patterned after the national type of democratic representation, Student Government strives to govern the student body on principles set forth by the constitution. This representative government is directed by eleven members elected by the student body.

The Council represents the student body in every phase of student activity and endeavors to enforce the constitution and the Honor System. It also strives to promote school spirit and all other high ideals which should be imbedded in young men and women as they prepare themselves for life's work.

CHRISTIAN ASSOCIATION

In the body of the Student Christian Association there resides a responsibility to organize campus activities in an efficient manner so as to provide for the recreational outlets and spiritual growth of the student body.

Included in this program is the Christmas Party which has become one of the highlights of the school year. Further activities are: deputation teams, vesper services, chapel services, weekly dormitory discussions, Boy Scout work, Hi-Y organization, world relatedness programs, and the annual Religious Emphasis Week.

Among the new programs accomplished this year are the formation of a Freshman S. C. A. Cabinet, the designation of a prayer room in Neville Hall, the accomplishment of a goal of five hundred dollars for the help of needy foreign students, the instigation of a new intramural program as set forth by definite rules with the awarding of a trophy at the end of the school year, and introducing a vocations week to the campus.

The International Relations Club is an organization sponsored by the Carnegie Endowment for International Peace and is currently being formally organized on a nation-wide basis, though clubs have actually existed internationally for some time. The local club was established at Presbyterian College in 1924 and reorganized in 1946 after a period of inactivity during the war. It is the only organization on the campus to which membership is obtained by competitive examination.

The purpose of the club is to stimulate student interest in international affairs and to promote better understanding among nations. Outstanding in this year's activities were: sponsoring a campus-wide Political Emphasis Week, lectures to the club by informed authorities, student forums, and inter-club activities.

Through membership in the Ministerial Club students studying for the ministry have an opportunity to gain experience in their future work by entering into various fields of service while in college. There is a warm fellowship through this service and also through social activities, which bind the members together in strong bonds of friendship.

This year the Club has reached out into new fields of service with the establishment of several Negro Sunday School classes plus a Negro Chapel which will be completed by work members have done some time in the spring. Other work which the Club is doing includes teaching in Sunday Schools, preaching in jails, conducting vespers on the campus and in churches, and assisting the surrounding churches in many ways.

Leadership in extra-curricular activities, high scholarship, and character are the bases upon which students are selected.

"Who's Who" serves a four-fold purpose: as a commendation to a student for his success in college, as a recommendation to the business world, as a standard measurement for students, and as an incentive for students to get the most out of their college careers.

Those chosen were: Marvin Gibbs, Lewis Hay, Robert G. Hughes, Ben Ivey, Herbert Lindsay, Henry Little, Dewey Riddle, Edward Somerville.

MISS ANNE DOUBERLY

Foreign Mission Fellowship

The local chapter of Foreign Mission Fellowship is a branch of the Inter-Varsity Christian Fellowship of the United States. Organized in January, 1948, the Presbyterian College group has grown rapidly.

During the meetings every Friday, 7:00 p. m., in the Prayer Room of Neville Hall, the members report on biographies of foreign missionaries, conditions current on the fields, and histories of mission stations. The meetings are closed with cards given out to persons present; sentence prayers are circled around the room for those missionaries whose names are written on the cards any given night.

Membership consists of two classes: those who have definitely purposed to go to the foreign field, and those associate members who have committed themselves to prayer concerning a possible call. The meetings are open to all who sincerely desire Christian fellowship and information concerning foreign missions.

A present project of FMF is to present a gift to every high school library in the forty-eight states of a true account of the life of a foreign missionary.

The students of Presbyterian College owe a vote of thanks to the Pan-Hellenic Council members who have tried to bring good dances to the student body during the year.

The members are elected by each fraternity as its representative to the council. Dewey Riddle served as president to the council, and it was through his tireless efforts that the best of dances were held. All traditions at P. C. were broken when a dance was held from twelve a. m. to three a. m. during the first semester.

The council again ruled rush season and regulated the pledging of new members of fraternities.

The Kappa Alpha order was founded at Washington College in December, 1865, soon after Robert E. Lee became president of that institution. The ideals and aims of the founders were largely influenced by Robert E. Lee. His gracious and knightly life is enshrined forever in the customs. Although it is a charter member of the National Interfraternity Council, Kappa Alpha is by tradition a Southern fraternity. Its aim has been to maintain and preserve the high traditions, ideals, manners, and customs of the Southern gentleman.

BLUE HOSE

The Blue Hose Gridsters received no bowl bids nor did they win a conference championship, but every member of the thirty-six man squad contributed in no small way to the completion of a successful season. Coaches McMillian, Moye, and Todd are also due a word of praise for their tireless efforts in fielding a team that upheld in every way the Fighting Blue Hose tradition.

When the season had ended, victories had been chalked up against The Citadel, Erskine, Rollins, Stetson, and Newberry, while Clemson, Chattanooga, Catawba, and Wofford had been the victors in other contests. Thus, holding a 5-4 won-lost record, second place in the "Little Four", and a never-to-be-forgotten conquest of The Citadel, the Presbyterians hung up headgear and shoulder pads for '48.

With no blistering sun to contend with, the Blue Hose camp felt confident that PC's fate would end in '48. But the night of September 25, at Tiger Town, found the Hosemen still on the short end of the score. A great Clemson eleven, which went on to defeat Missouri in the Gator Bowl post-season classic, completely overwhelmed a gallant band of Presbyterian warriors. Gage, Cox, Mathews, and Cone, along with a brilliant array of linemen, were in rare form as they netted eight TDs and five points after. Tinamite Norton's run back of the kickoff after intermission was PC's most outstanding bid for glory during the game. Although they were within ten yards of the Clemson Promised Land, the McMillanmen were unable to dent the double stripes.

Tiger Town seen at night

Rising from the burning ashes of their defeat at the hands of the mighty Tiger of Clemson, the rejuvenated Blue Stockings blew the lid off The Citadel's 1948 football season by upsetting the highly touted Bulldogs by a margin of 7-0. The Bulldog, favored by a three-touchdown margin and expecting an impressive win over the Hose, boasted a better team than those of the past two years when he edged out the McMillian Warriors by successive scores of 13-6 and 7-6. This time, however, he found himself unable to cope with the tenacity and grim determination of the Presbyterians. The Keydets were not once allowed to trespass on Hose soil, as they found themselves deep in their own territory most of the game. The winning tally and only scoring of the game came in the second quarter after Bob Stutts, Hose guard, recovered a Bulldog fumble on The Citadel 25-yard marker. From there a Tedards to Allen pass carried for seventeen more precious yards. Hughes smashed for two, and Sophomore standout Hollis Cate carried for the last five yards, going over standing up. Yarborough converted and the game was history. Tedards' superb punting, the fine running of Watts, Jolly, Fleming and Norton, added to a great game but the entire forward wall played decisive parts in this initial victory for the Blue Stockings.

Mentor Lonnie McMillian's Hose gridsters lowered the boom on the Flying Fleet in a tight all-important Little Four tilt during Homecoming festivities in the third contest of the season for the Macmen. The first half of the game was nip and tuck as both teams were stopped short of their destinations by strong defensive. In the third frame, however, the Mighty Machine of the Hose gained momentum as they drove for fifty yards and a TD with Scooter Watts going over from eight yards out. Yarborough's placement was wide, and the Hose moved ahead, 6-0. The fourth quarter had hardly gotten under way when Norton returned a Seceder punt for 16 yards and initiated another goalward march. This time it was Jolly who carried the treasured pigskin across as he slid off left tackle for the last six yards. Again Yarborough's attempted extra point was wide. But several plays later the Fleet found itself forced to kick out from behind its own goal line. "Rompig Robert" Hughes, however, broke through the Seceder restraining wall with a sudden burst of speed and blocked Harry Hipp's goal line boot to give the Hosemen two more points and put the game on ice. Thus ended another gridiron conquest for P. C., number two in '48.

The following week the McMillian T cranked up for a trip to the hills of Tennessee and an encounter with the University of Chattanooga Moccasins. With two victories under their belt, the Blue Hose were ready for all comers. The night of October 15 was not our night, apparently, as the strong Mocc aggregation pushed across five TDs and as many points after. With the game only two minutes old Frank Erwin, Chattanooga back, scooted around right end for the first score of the game. The Blue Hose were able to penetrate to their opponent's 25 but no farther as they lost possession of the ball by virtue of a fumble. Another Moccasin tally in the first period and one in the second made the score 21-0 Chattanooga at the halfway mark. Hose thrusts were repeatedly stopped throughout the fracas due to fumbles and pass interceptions. The second half saw the Tennesseemen adding two more six-pointers on long runs by O'Neil and Elko. As the game ended, Presbyterian was driving goalward with the ball on the Chattanooga 40-yard stripe. Tedards, Gooch, Fleming, and Yarborough were outstanding performers in the Stocking backfield, and Linemen Lindsay, Marsh, Riddle, Watt, and Howe played their usual good brand of ball.

After a week's layoff following their sound thrashing by the Chattanooga Moccasins, the Presbyterian College Blue Hose grid aggregation bounced back into the win column at Orlando, Florida, when they turned two fumbles by the Tars into TDs and added another on Walter Gooch's 87-yard romp on a Rollin's kickoff. At the outset it looked like another bad night for the Hosemen as Rollin's Buddy Tate recovered a P. C. miscue on the Presbyterian 35. Four plays later Peacock, Rollin's fullback, rammed over, and Knott converted to make the score 7-0. The night was still young, however, when the Tars booted off to the visitors. Fleetster Gooch brought the spectators to their feet with a zig-zag, cross-field, here today, gone tomorrow, runback of the kick. Yarborough's failure to convert still left the Tars ahead by a narrow margin of one point. In the second quarter the Stockings counted again with Yarborough driving over from the six-inch line to put the Hose out front 12-7, and the scoring was over for the first half. Not until the dying minutes of the third canto did the McMillianmen draw blood again. This time alert Mr. Yarborough gathered in John Gray's fumble on an attempted pass. After netting only five yards in four plays, Tedards completed a 39-yard aerial to Senior Hose Flankman Herb Lindsay. Yarborough's third attempt was through the middle to wind up the scoring for the evening, the Hose having completely feathered the Tars 19-7. The entire team played an exceptionally good ball game to the extent that the possibility of a Tangerine Bowl bid was hinted.

RACK and ROCK would appear to be the theme of this scene as Liae Coach Moxe looks over his studs, LOTT, PURYEAR, STARNES, MARTIN, BECKHAM, and STUTTS, from his rocking chair.

Dreams of an invitation to the Tangerine Bowl faded sharply on the night of October 31 as the Catawba Indians scalped the Blue Hose by a 21-6 count at Salisbury. A blocked Hose punt in the first frame resulted in a Warrior recovery on the PC 16. Lee Spears bulled his way over in two tries at the Hose forward wall and added the extra point to put the Indians ahead 7-0. With time running out in the first half, Buzz Tedards spotted Herb Lindsay on the Catawba goal and flipped a perfect pass to the Greenville lad good for 16 yards and six points. The try from placement was fruitless, and the score at haltime stood 7-6 Catawba. The Tribe added two more TDs in the third with Spears getting both. Speacht, Spears, Greene, and Clarr continually got in the hair of the Blue Hose with their punt returns, line smashes, and all-round superior performance. On the other hand, the McMillianmen left the field knowing that they had played much better ball games than this.

Spartanburg and Coach Phil Dicken's Wofford Terriers were next on the schedule for the PC grid machine. The Wesleyans were riding high on a series of ties with no defeats on their record. The Blue Hose had won three while losing the same number. On that fateful November afternoon the Terrible Terriers came on the field with horseshoes hanging from every pocket. In their first win over a Hose football squad since 1937 Dicken's Dogs still were unable to come close to the Presbyterians in the statistics department. In the rushing department the Hose picked up 11 first downs to their opponent's four and rolled up 135 yards while the Methodists were garnering only a scant 86. Attempting 14 aerials on a rain-soaked field, the Hose heavers could find their receivers but four times for 54 yards. The Lucky Eleven from Spartanburg accounted for three out of five for 18 yards. "It was a hard and well-played game on the part of both teams," Coach Mac explained, "and breaks played a very important factor in the outcome." The so-called breaks were set up by four pass interceptions and two recovered Hose miscues. A blocked punt by Andy Kavounis, Terrier guard, gave the Wofford supporters additional reason for celebration in the final frame with these last two points ending the scoring for the day. The lone Hose tally came in the second period with Blake Watts scooting down the sidelines on a fifty-three yard jaunt to paydirt. Wofford's victory in this event gave them the Little Four crown for the first time in over a decade.

Piling up 222 yards on the ground and 13 first downs, the Hosemen outclassed an aerial-happy Stetson eleven, 19-7. Billy Jolly and Blake Watts were the big offensive guns for the Macmen. With Stetson kicking off, the Blue Hose did not relinquish the pigskin until 62 yards had been covered and six points chalked up. This time it was Jolly who went over, covering the last six yards on a skirt over right tackle. Again in the latter part of the second period it was Jolly who dashed 55 yards over the right side of the Stetson defense. Coming back strong and refreshed from the halftime breather, the Hose began rolling on the ground. A series of off-tackle and end runs by the ever-present Mr. Cooch and others placed the ball on the one-yard line. Wildman Watts sneaked over from this point. Barnum's placement was good, and the PC'uns led 19-0. Filling the ozone with aerials in the dying moments of the game, the Hatters managed to shove across a TD with a point afterwards. With no further scoring, the Blue Hose left the field on the long end of a 19-7 score.

Thanksgiving Day set the stage for the conclusion of the Hose football season with the Indians from the Tribe of Newberry providing the opposition. Following the opening kickoff, "Slingshot" Witt of the Redskins began to fill the air with his deadly passes. But George Fleming of the Hose killed the vaunted march with an interception on the sixth play of the fracas. Bob Hughes, playing in his final game for his Alma Mater, plunged over from the two-yard marker. Fred Barnum, freshman, converted squarely between the up-rights, and the Stockings were off to a llyng start by a score of 7-0 in their annual contest with the Indians. Later in the same quarter Walter Gooch, taking a handoff from Billy Jolly, scooted over from five yards out. Again in the opening moments of the second period Jolly, faking a handoff, romped 70 yards to a TD which was nullified by a penalty. A short time later, however, Fleming on a 25-yard jaunt hit paydirt. The fourth PC marker did not materialize until the third canto, when Blake Watts broke off tackle for the remaining 26 yards. With the Macmen holding a 27-0 lead the Indians finally managed to reach the Presbyterian goal line by virtue of a blocked punt, a 14-yard heave, and a one-yard stab at the mighty Hose forward wall. Fleming continued the rout of the Invaders as he took the kickoff two yards behind his own goal and raced 102 yards for the fifth PC score. Hollis Cate, on the last play game, scampered 47 yards to wind up a 40-7 Hose victory.

JUNIOR VARSITY

Coach Charlie Davison's Blue Anklets gave a good account of themselves in the four scheduled contests of '48. The Papooses from Newberry got their fill of the JV's smooth-running attack in two meetings with the Anklets. In the first encounter the Little Hosemen outscored the junior edition of the Indian eleven, 27-19. In a repeat performance at Newberry the Papooses were held scoreless while the Anklets dented their opponent's goal line twice. The Baby Bengals from Clemson had too many reserves for the JVs to cope with, as the Davisonians succumbed to a 34-13 clawing. In Union, South Carolina, the Wofford Pups wrung out the Baby Blue Hose to the tune of a 21-13 count.

The Hose Varsity of 1949 will be strengthened by the addition of stars of the Junior aggregation of this past fall, such as Flashbacks Kirby Jackson, Ronnie Johnston, and Hunk Miller and Quarterback Art Baker. Windy Johnson and Sam Baker were iron men of the grid-iron, as they participated in both varsity and junior varsity games as they were needed. In the line stalwarts Earle May, Lyon Flynt, Earle Jackson, Harrod Martin, Fred Barnum, Ken Horn, and Cary Moore were consistent performers for the Blue Anklets.

Action from College of Charleston fracas.

With the importation of four freshmen stars from Indiana, the basketball state, PC took its first step up the ladder of basketball success this year. The Hose, winning six of seven exhibition games, became one of the most-feared quintets in the state before the regular season got under way.

Setting down their first five foes in rapid succession, the Hosemen spontaneously shot to the top in the heated Palmetto basketball race, relinquishing their tight hold only after suffering the temporary loss of Captain Herb Lindsay at the pivot position and becoming entangled in Southern Conference rules which barred freshmen from participation in games with conference college teams. Their first defeat came at the hands of Erskine's Flying Fleet, state champs, in a game which brought a capacity crowd and more to Leroy Springs Gymnasium.

Later on in the season the Hose lost the services of Forward Vance Logan for a short while, and Lindsay suffered a recurrence of his ankle injury.

One of the most amazing feats on the season came when the team, without their freshmen aces and Logan, avenged an earlier Citadel defeat by downing the Bulldogs, 50-40. Another came when five freshmen went onto the floor representing PC against Wofford, boaster of the hottest team in the state, and led the Terriers until the final minute, finally succumbing to the Methodists by a two-point margin.

Another freshman to basketball, Captain Felton H. Moore, ROTC instructor, guided the Hose in his frosh year as an athletic coach. He was assisted with chores by Manager Lonzo Giles, who was voted "All-State" manager by the team.

At the season's end, PC had not won a state title or the like, but the Hose team had given ample proof that PC's cage hopes for the next few years are far from futile.

Court Action

Producing one of the state's top cage squads, PC was rated even higher in individual talent which caught the eyes of many state sports followers. One of the brightest stars was Dwight "Willie" Croninger, all-stater, who led throughout the season in state individual marks. Mid-way the season, he sported a high 24-point average.

Captain Herb Lindsay, on and off the court during the season, started the season as a possible all-stater until a sprained ankle benched him. The roving Hose center had accumulated a 13-point average before being sidelined.

Lou Hawkins, accomplished dribbling artist and all-round floorman, sparked team play from the beginning to the end. He teamed up at guard with Kay Hill, whose rapid improvement on the hardwood labeled him as another bright star in PC's growing galaxy. He ended the season shooting in the teens after a slow start.

Graduating between semesters, Vance Logan saw limited action with the Hose. Logan added his third letter to his sweater as did Lindsay, who will be graduated in May.

The entire Hose squad saw much action. Forwards Kirby Jackson, Gene Turner, Max Rollins, and Bob Kederick added to the team's strength as did Guards Jimmy Lindsay, Marion Wood, and Ralph Tedards. Ken Horn and Adam Andrews, senior letterman, handled Lindsay's duties at center while team captain was benched.

Wrestling, the aged grappling game, came into its own at Presbyterian College this year. The rowdy sport was introduced at PC last year by Coach John Ashby Dick. The first season the team staged only two performances, while this year the Hose matmen engaged in six tugs.

Twenty-three students reported for the first day's practice session to battle for the eight starting weights on the squad. Eliminations were held before each match, giving each grappler an opportunity to show his ability to participate in a varsity tussle. Exhibitions were also held before four of the matches to give wrestling experience to the greenhorns.

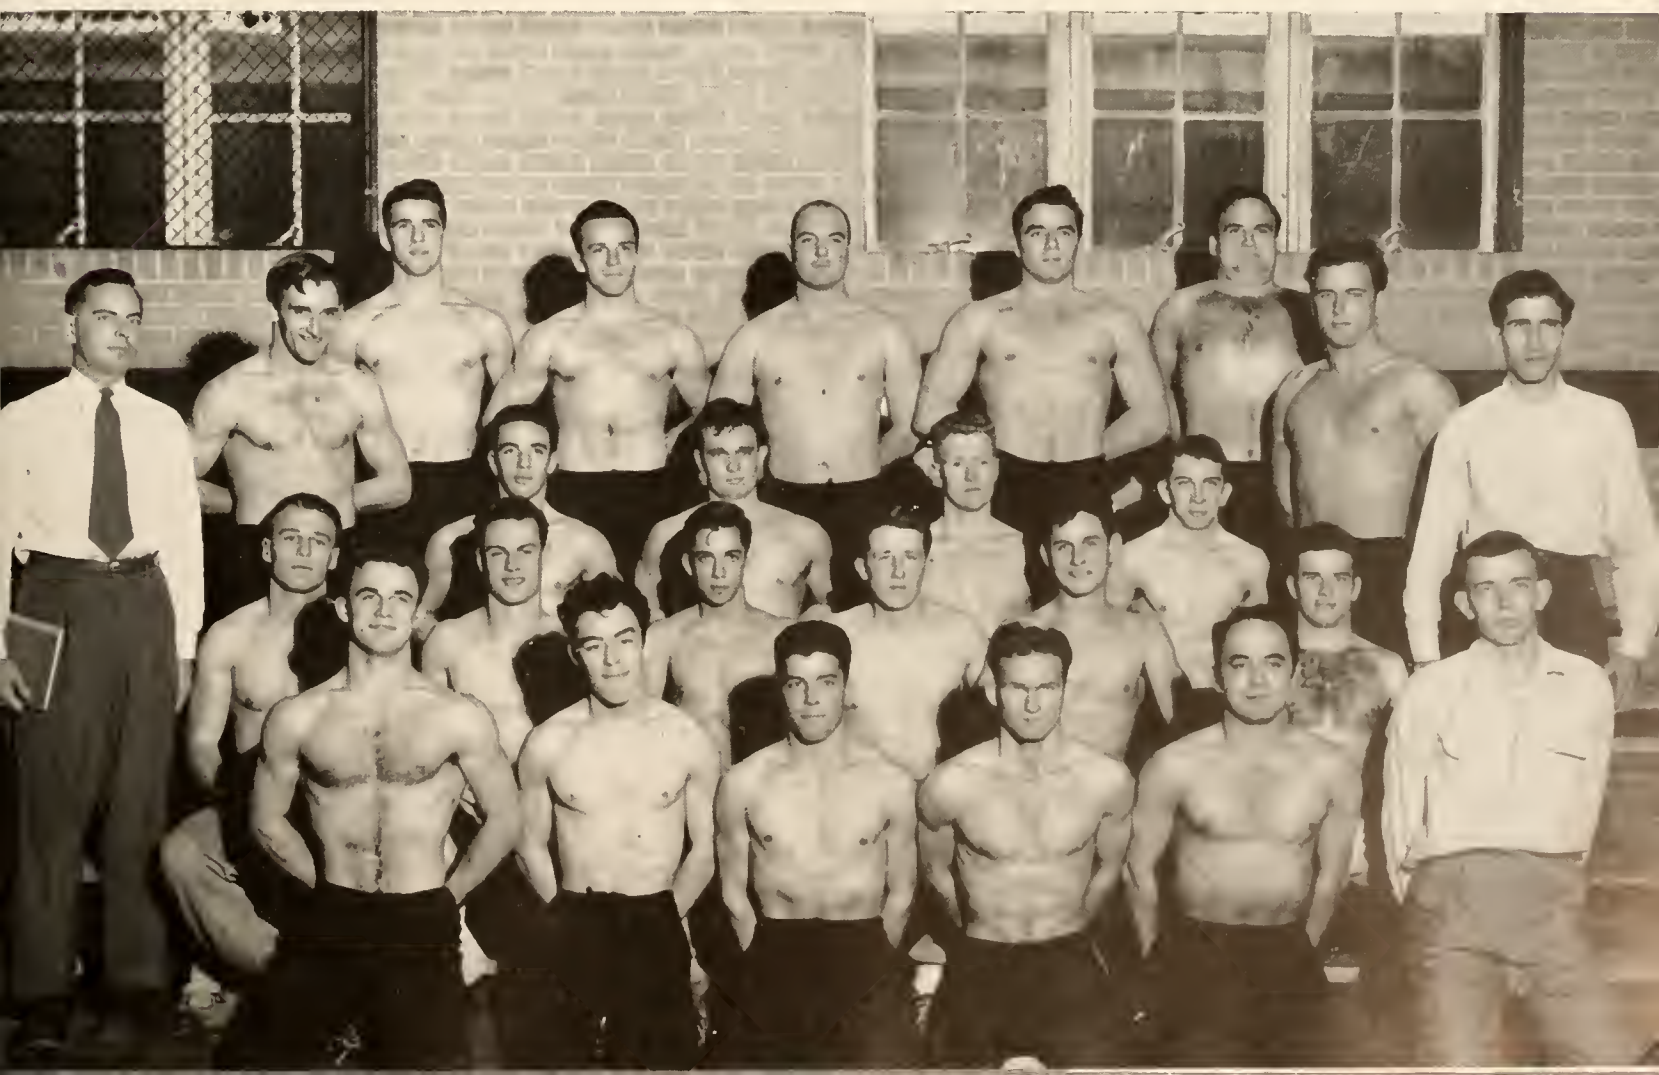

B. A. Brown and David Armstrong captained the 1949 Hosemen through their second season. The newly installed sport was given much student support and looks to a bright future at PC.

The Hose met The Citadel, Appalachian State, and the High Point "Y" team each twice, winning over High Point twice.

Bobby Link and Johnny Thurman were regular starters in the 121-pound weight, and Marvin Gibbs and Dan McLeod represented the team in the 128-pound tussles. Alan Plummer and Joe Weingartner shared the spotlight in the 136-pound division, while Billy Death and Bill Link alternated in the 145-pound class.

Co-Captain B. A. Brown took on all on-comers in the 155-pound weight as did Walter Gooch in the 165-pound class. Ruling the roost in the 175-pound division were Co-Captain David Armstrong and Albert Watson. Fred Yarborough paced the field in the unlimited tugs, taking on all sizes and weights above 175 pounds.

COACH McMILLIAN
"The grand old man of the track"

Coach Lonnie McMillian's Presbyterian College cindermen are looking forward to a season of victories and a possible upset in the state meet this year. With most of last year's veterans returning to the track again this spring, the Blue Hose should better their past season's record. In 1948 the Hose broke even in the won-lost column, holding victories over Wofford and Newberry while losing close contests to both Clemson and Furman. In the state meet the Parsons placed fourth behind South Carolina, Clemson, and Furman in that order.

Blake "Wildman" Watts, sophomore speedster, will anchor the running events and is expected to cop the 440 in this year's state meet. Last year he was bettered only by Scooter Rucks of the University, who set a new record in the state for this event. Joe Dodd, freshman quarter-miler, and possibly Walter Gooch will also be burning up the track in the 440.

DASH MEN—Thurman, Galloway, Fleming, McCutcheon, Gooch, Watts.

CINDER PATH

In the 100-yard dash Kenny McCutcheon, George Fleming, Walter Gooch, Ernest Newton, and Blake Watts can all breeze down the stretch around the ten-second mark. Freshman Johnny Thurman will also probably be seen in action against non-Southern Conference foes. Due to a fall at the finish line during the trials of the state meet a year ago, McCutcheon, who finished among the first four, was unduly disqualified. This year should find him garnering one of the laurels, if no such complication arises again.

The 220 will again feature McCutcheon, who added two points to the Hose score in the '48 South Carolina Track and Field meet by placing third in this dash event behind the two South Carolina speed merchants, Rucks and Drews. Backing up Kenny will be any of the other dash men as Coach "Mac" sees fit. Thurman will be hustling against all non-conference opponents.

As yet the participants in the 880 have not been decided upon. April 3, however, will probably find Frank Spears and Bobby Hellams competing against foes of the Hose.

Freshman sensation of last year, Clifford Brown, along with Spears and Swope, will be seen at the starting line when the mile- and two-mile distance runs are called.

Passing the baton again this year will be Gooch, Fleming, McCutcheon, and anchor man, Scooter No. 2 Watts. In case they are needed Hollis Cate and Henry Galloway will be on hand to fill in the ranks. This team should romp to victory over any relay team in the state.

High-stepping Hollis Cate and Marshall Lanter will continue their hurdling ways in both low and high hurdles. This duo should pile up many additional points to add to the total when the season gets under way.

In the field Presbyterian can place an array of competent performers. Discus men Dewey "Red" Riddle, Buddy McMillan, Gooch, and Gus Watt will be throwing the disk for distance. With the exception of Watt all of these men can be seen in the ring, aided and abetted by promising freshman Ken Horn, putting the shot over the forty-foot mark.

Javelin hurlers of last year, Senior Herb Lindsay and Sophomore Walter Gooch, will continue to hold down this department. The broad jump is well-accounted for with the addition of Fred Bentley, an intramural discovery, to Senior Bill Walker, holdover from last year, and Freshman Thurman.

Gene Turner and Max "Grover Goose" Rollins, two worthies from Grover, North Carolina, will take turn about out-jumping their opponents in the high jump. Going up and over (we hope) down at the pole vault runway are Bob Hughes, with three years' experience, and the ever-present Mr. Gooch. These boys should give a good account of themselves against all comers.

This year the Blue Hose tennis squad, despite the loss of a regular professional tennis coach, is once again looking forward to maintaining the title of "State Champions".

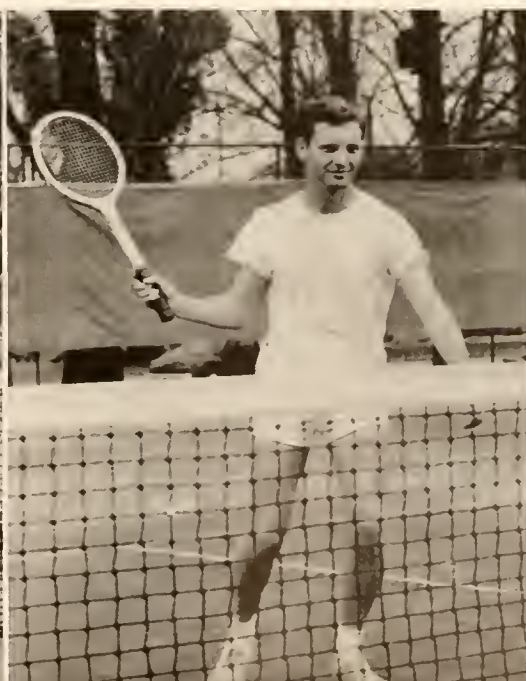

The number one slot will once again feature State Single's Champion Bob Spurrier, who is also holding forth as coach of the Blue Hose aggregation. In the number two position will be Kay Kaiser, a steady performer and hold over from last year's team at the same position. Bill Harper will provide his hard-smashing game behind Kaiser. Last year Harper teamed with Spurrier to take the men's doubles championship. Rounding out the first four is Ferdy Jacobs, another repeater from the forty-eight team, which compiled an enviable record of fifteen wins against six losses in competition against some of the best teams in the south.

The rest of the positions have not become definite as yet, but Jimmy Williams, Stumpy Jennings, Amadore Flynt, and freshmen Joe Dodd and Frank Spears are battling for the remaining three slots. Freshmen Dodd and Spears will probably be used against non-Southern Conference foes while Williams, Jennings, and Flynt will be in there swinging against the higher-ups.

Down on the sandlot Coach Claude Crocker, former hurler for the Brooklyn Dodgers, has taken over the reins as baseball coach at Presbyterian. The former resident of Clinton has been at the University of North Carolina for the past two seasons where he was an assistant coach. Prior to this he starred for Brooklyn farm clubs and occupied important relief roles for the Dodgers until he sustained a shoulder injury, which ended his professional career. The Blue Hose are very fortunate to have secured a baseball mentor with his experience and ability.

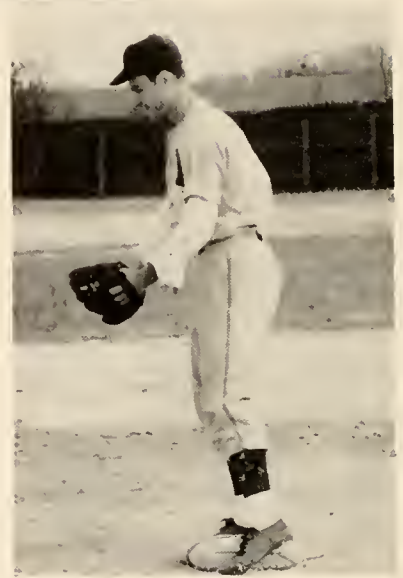

This year the squad, although missing the services of several of last year's outstanding performers, will take the field as a well-balanced and seasoned club. The Blue Hose contribution to the diamond will be characterized by heavy hitting, good fielding, and all-round heads-up baseball. In three exhibitions to date the Hose have shown that they are no slouches at the plate, having twenty runs to their credit. Thus far Clinton Mill and the Fort Jackson Red Raiders have suffered defeat at the hands of the slugging PC'uns by respective scores of 9-8 and 7-2. In the only other game played Clinton Mill eked out a 5-4 victory over the Blue Sox in the first game of the season for both teams. If the club continues its all-round good performance, this year's edition of the baseball team should greatly improve last season's record of five wins against 14 losses.

On the mound Senior Allen Draughon, most experienced member of the Hose's pitching staff, will be firing them over. Fastballer Arnold Graham is next in line, followed closely by Lum Edwards, Harry Death, Leon Castles, Jake Brewer, Wally Wilkinson, and Bob Kederick. Any of these hurlers should give a good account of himself when called on by Coach Crocker. Death, Brewer, Castles, and Wilkinson will be used mostly in relief roles when the going gets tough.

Around the infield Byron King and Joe Weingartner are battling it out for the hot corner. At shortstop "Shotgun" Weldon seems to have everything under control. Bill Mauldin adds depth to this position and will see some action. Veteran Harrell Graham is back at his old slot at the second sack. On first "Mighty Mite" Bob McKinney, another old-timer, gets the nod, while Paul Cavender is on hand to back him up.

OUT OF UNIFORM due to a delay in shipment, these Sox artists were snapped down on Young Field during a practice session. They are, kneeling: THORNTON, BAGLEY, CURRIE, HUSSEY, JOLLY. Standing: PIERCE, WILKINSON, BREWER, DESCHAMPS, HILL, MAULDIN.

Behind the plate the Hose have an overflow of ability and reserves. "Bull" Berry and Jim Allred are P. C. lettermen and experienced receivers. Freshman Ralph DesChamps and Frank McNeil also handle their mitts well.

Patrolling the gardens will be Brooks Copeland in left field, "Choc" Burnett and J. D. Currie in center, and in the right field pasture Freshman Kirby Jackson along with Warren Steverson will round out the outfield. Copeland and Burnett are old hands at their respective positions, and they are being counted on to add punch and power to this year's team. In pre-season games the outfield has shown itself to be one of the strongest departments.

All of the candidates are working hard as the team rounds into shape. A hard schedule lies ahead, but the end of the season should find the Blue Sox standing high among the teams in the State.
